

A quote by Ampère

Mario Román

<2018-09-03 Mon 21:55>

[Les langues] commencent par être une musique, et finissent par être une algèbre. – M. Ampère.

I am having a bit of trouble locating the exact source of this sentence and I am also not sure in which sense should be interpreted; but I somehow imagined that the idea of languages as algebras would be more modern than this.